

Don't work with food if you are sick

Many food poisoning incidents are caused by food handlers working when they are sick

If you are suffering from a food borne illness like a cold, flu, diarrhoea or vomiting you must...

- Report this to your supervisor
- Not engage in food handling
- If you are performing alternative duties, take all precautions to prevent food becoming contaminated, this includes dishes and utensils